

AS SOUTH FLORIDA'S PREMIERE MOSQUITO COMBATING SYSTEM, STEVE JENKINS OF SWAT MOSQUITO SYSTEMS FIGHTS OFF PESTS FOR FLORIDA RESIDENTS.

SWAT AWAY

WITH THE NEVER-ENDING HUMIDITY IN SOUTH FLORIDA, IT'S NO SURPRISE THAT MOSQUITOES AND OTHER PESTS CONTINUE TO BE A BOTHER FOR FLORIDA RESIDENTS. Steve Jenkins, founder of SWAT Mosquito Systems, serves as a pioneer in the industry, creating the most efficient and effective home mosquito misting systems.

SWAT's story begins with a personal anecdote of his wife complaining of mosquitoes, and as any good husband, he tried to remedy this issue. His frustration with the current products on the shelves were not meeting his standards, as their long-term effects are minimal. One thing led to another, and Steve stumbled into a like-minded individual who connected him to another like-minded individual, and their mission to combat Florida's most irritating pests with an automatic system was born, SWAT.

SWAT has since become a premiere pest control business catering to South Florida's luxury homes and businesses, all the way from Vero Beach to The Keys. SWAT provides top notch service and premier custom instillations, with the highest quality products and equipment. Specializing in fly control, their custom systems use a network of high pressure mosquito misting devices, that mist throughout the day in intervals from sunrise to sunset, creating a barrier that lasts 24/7. Think of it as your luxury irrigation system, but for pest control. Minimal effort, maximal results. 11491 Interchange Circle South, Miramar, 866.900.7928, swatmosquitosystems.com
